

Harvard LJMU Referencing Guide

When writing up your project/assignment it is important that you provide details of the various resources you have consulted. You need to use a recognised referencing system. This is a quick guide giving examples of resources and how to reference in the Harvard LJMU style.

This guide provides basic examples of how to reference and how to display a citation in a paragraph, it is not a guide to academic writing, grammar or sentence structure.

Please Note: always check with your programme leader, module handbook or school as to what referencing style should be used.

Section One: Why Reference?

When writing up an assignment it is important that you provide details of the various resources you have consulted. You need to use a recognised referencing system.

The Harvard LJMU is the one used most frequently in LJMU, this guide will help you learn how it works.

What is referencing?

Referencing is the acknowledgement of all the sources that you have referred to (cited) in your assignments. There are two parts to referencing:

- Citation: Brief details of each source are ‘cited’ in the body of your text to argue, support, explain key points

- Reference: Full publication details for each source are provided in a reference list at the end

When do you need to give a reference?

- if you quote the exact words of another author
- if you paraphrase or summarise a passage by another author
- if you use an idea or material based directly on the work of another author

Why should you reference?

- it enables you to find an item you have previously consulted
- it allows you to pass on to a friend or colleague details of an item that you have consulted, secure in the knowledge that he/she will be able to trace it easily
- it helps the reader understand how you have reached your conclusions
- to avoid accusations of plagiarism
- it enables you to identify the sources of quotes

Referencing involves inserting brief details, usually the item's author's last name and year of publication within round brackets, for example: (Neville, 2009) or Neville (2009), at the appropriate point in your text and full details of the item in a reference list at the end of your work. The entry in the reference list for Neville's book would be:

Neville, C. (2009) How to improve your assignment results. Maidenhead: Open University Press.

Before submitting an assignment, check that your reference list includes accurate and full details of all the items you refer to in the assignment.

When do you not need to give a reference?

In all academic and professional fields some ideas are regarded as "common knowledge" and do not need to be referenced.

Pears and Shields (2010, p.2) define common knowledge as "facts, dates, events and information that are expected to be known by someone studying or working in a particular field". They suggest that students who are unsure whether "the material you want to use in your assignment constitutes common knowledge, ... need to ask ... the following questions:

- Did I know this information before I started my course?
- Did this information/idea come from my own brain?

If the answer to either or both of these questions is "No", then the information is not common knowledge. In these cases, you need to cite and reference your source(s)" (2010, p.3).

Bibliography and Reference list – what is the difference?

Some people use these terms synonymously. However, according to the British Standards Institution: “a bibliography identifies books and articles relevant to the text; it is not restricted to items cited in the text... A list of references is confined to publications cited in the text” (BSI, 2000 p.16).

Some terms you may come across:

Bibliography: a list of sources you have consulted during your research

Citation: an in-text reference to an author/source

Direct Quotation: the actual words used by the author – exact starting page number is required in the citation

Ellipsis: using 3 dots within a quotation to show there are missing/omitted words

Et al: Latin for “and others” this is used in citations to items by more than three authors

Ibid: means “as mentioned directly above.” You can use it when you are citing an author for a second time, if you have not cited another item in between. Not used in Harvard system

Indirect Quotation: paraphrasing or altering slightly an author’s words

Op.cit: means “work already cited in a different part of the text.” Not used in Harvard system.

Paraphrasing: altering an author’s words to your own, you must cite the original source, but page numbers are not required

Reference List: list of sources you have referred to in your assignment

Sic: between square brackets, for example: [sic] after a quotation indicates that any spelling mistakes or grammatical errors are not yours

Section Two: Quotations and Paraphrasing

General Points about Quotations

A quotation helps you support an argument and illustrate the range of your research. Before including a quotation, consider whether it is relevant. It is important that a quotation is easily identifiable as such and accompanied by a page number.

Page numbers for quotes can be presented in several ways, using a comma after the year or a colon, for example:

Titmuss (1958, p.51) or Titmuss (1958 p.51) or Titmuss (1958: 51)

(Titmuss, 1958, p.51) or (Titmuss, 1958 p.51) or (Titmuss, 1958: 51)

Choose one of these styles and use it consistently.

Please Note: you should always check with your programme leader, module handbook or school to ensure what referencing style should be used.

Short quotations

Quotation of three lines or less are enclosed in quotation marks and included in the body of the essay, for example:

“Occupational welfare includes those benefits that accrue to wage and salary earners over and above their pay, including those referred to as fringe benefits” (Titmuss, 1958 p.51).

Long quotations

We recommend that longer quotations are indented (they can be enclosed in inverted commas, but it is not necessary) and presented in singleline- spacing, for example:

Titmuss (1958, p.51) illustrates this occupational division of welfare with the following examples:

pensions for employees, wives and dependents; child allowances; death duties; health and welfare services; personal expenses for travel, entertainment, dress and equipment; meal vouchers; motor cars and season tickets ... and an incalculable variety of benefits in kind ranging from obvious forms of realisable goods to the most intangible forms of amenity.

Or

pensions for employees, wives and dependents; child allowances; death duties; health and welfare services; personal expenses for travel, entertainment, dress and equipment; meal vouchers; motor cars and season tickets ... and an incalculable variety of benefits in kind ranging from obvious forms of realisable goods to the most intangible forms of amenity (Titmuss, 1958 p.51).

Quotes: webpages/websites

If you want to quote from a website, use the paragraph number or line number to pinpoint the information:

According to Bebbington and Parkinson (2012, para.4) “opportunities are deteriorating for children to experiment with different and lesser known sports”.

Cited as: GOV.UK (2016, para.4) or (GOV.UK, 2016 para.4) or (GOV.UK, 2016, para.4)

GOV.UK (2016, line 10) or (GOV.UK, 2016 line 10) or (GOV.UK, 2016, line 10)

Always reproduce quotations exactly, including their punctuation. You should even reproduce any spelling or grammatical errors from the original. Insert [sic] immediately afterwards to indicate that the error was made in the original and not as you were transcribing it.

You may make alterations or additions to a quoted passage to help your reader's comprehension or to fit the quotation neatly into your sentence or paragraph. Enclose any words that you add in square brackets [ ] and insert three dots ... to indicate anything you have removed.

Quotes: audio/visual materials

Audio/visual materials such as podcasts, YouTube videos, DVD etc, use the 24-hour clock to pinpoint the location, for example:

Million Dollar Baby (2005: 00:04:30) or (Million Dollar Baby, 2005: 00:04:30)

Quote for Film/Screen School student:

You may want to quote a specific part from the DVD/film – use the Director as the author and the 24-hour clock to indicate the starting point. For example:

Into the Wild (Penn, 2007: 00:25:35) or In Penn's (2007: 00:25:35) film Into the Wild

Author quoting another person (Secondary Reference)

Author (year) Name of person quoting. Name of the Website/Newspaper [online]

Available at:

[Accessed: date]

Cited as: Person quoting (quoted in Author, year)

Robinson, J. (2011) Eric Schmidt, chairman of Google, condemns British education system. The Guardian [online], 26th August 2011

Available at: <http://www.theguardian.com/technology/2011/aug/26/eric-schmidt-chairman-google-education>

[Accessed: 18th October 2016]

Schmidt (quoted in Robinson, 2011 para.12) declared "I was flabbergasted to learn that today computer science isn't even taught as standard in UK schools."

Paraphrasing

This is when you use your own word to express an author's words, ideas or concept. You still need to acknowledge that author with a citation, but you do not need a page number, for example:

Developing a natural conversational style to an interview takes time (Charmaz, 2014), so time should...

Addison (2010) suggest that the ability to create imaginative and original art...

Please Note: LBS students (not Events or Tourism): When paraphrasing you may be required to include page numbers, please check with your tutor.

Section Three: Authors

Some general points about authors

If you can identify the name of a person/accredited with the creation of an item, that is who you should regard as its author. Reference authors under their last name followed by their initials (not their full name/s) and without any titles or qualifications. For example:

Professor Stephen W. Hawking would be: Hawking, S.W.

In your paragraph/text they are cited (referred to) by just their last name followed by the year, so Stephen Hawking would be cited as: Hawking (1988) or (Hawking, 1988)

All the authors credited should be included in the reference and listed in the order in which they appear on the title page.

Edited publications need to include an abbreviation to identify the editor(s). For example:

Edited by Geoffrey Campbell-Platt would be: Campbell-Platt, G. (ed.)

Cited as: Campbell-Platt (2012) or (Campbell-Platt, 2012)

Publications written by an organisation or society, where there is no named person, treat the organisation/society as the author. For example:

Cited as: Joseph Rowntree Foundation (2014) or (Joseph Rowntree Foundation, 2014)

One Author

Cottrell, S. (2019) The study skills handbook. 5th ed. London: Red Globe Press.

Cited as: Cottrell (2019) or (Cottrell, 2019)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, for example: Gottfried (1983, p.45) or (Gottfried, 1983 p.45). See Section 2 above for more details.

Two Authors

Gopee, N. and Galloway, J. (2017) Leadership and healthcare. 3rd ed. London: Sage.

Cited as: Gopee and Galloway (2017) or (Gopee and Galloway, 2017)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, for example: Gopee and Galloway (2017, p.89) or (Gopee and Galloway, 2017p.89). See Section 2 above for more details.

Three Authors

Field, K., Holden, P. and Lawlor, H. (2000) Effective subject leadership. London: Routledge Falmer.

Cited as: Field, Holden and Lawlor (2000) or (Field, Holden and Lawlor, 2000)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, for example: Field, Holden and Lawlor (2000, p.55) or (Field, Holden and Lawlor, 2000 p.55). See Section 2 above for more details.

Edwards, C.P., Gandini, L. and Forman, G.E. (2012) The hundred languages of children: the Reggio Emilia experience in transformation. 3rd ed. Santa Barbara: Praeger.

Cited as: Edwards, Gandini and Forman (2012) or (Edwards, Gandini and Forman, 2012)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, for example: Edwards, Gandini and Forman (2012, p.36) or (Edwards, Gandini and Forman, 2012 p.36). See Section 2 above for more details.

Four or more Authors

If a publication has more than three authors, give all the authors' names in the full reference in the order in which they are listed in the item:

Nemeth, E., Snyder, G., Hein, T., Whaley, B. and Mackin, D. (2018) Unix and Linux system administration handbook. 5th ed. Boston: Addison-Wesley.

In your assignment, give just the name of the first author followed by et al. (Latin for and others) in your citation.

Cited as: Nemeth et al. (2005) or (Nemeth et al., 2005)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, for example: Nemeth et al. (2005, p.21) or (Nemeth et al., 2005 p.21). See Section 2 above for more details.

Edited by or compiled by

Treat the editor or compiler of a work in the same way as an author and indicate his/her function in brackets, for example: (ed.), (comp.) in the full reference but not in the text.

Ghebre-Sellassie, I., Martin, C., Zhang, F. and DiNunzio, J. (eds.) (2018) Pharmaceutical extrusion technology. 2nd ed. Boca Raton: CRC Press.

Cited as: Ghebre-Sellassie et al. (2018) or (Ghebre-Sellassie et al., 2018)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, for example: Ghebre-Sellassie et al (2018, p.22) or (Ghebre-Sellassie et al., 2018 p.22). See Section 2 above for more details.

No Author

If it is unclear who the author is, for example, a dictionary, use the title. This would normally then be referred to by the title in the text and in the reference list:

Encarta Concise English Dictionary (2001) London: Bloomsbury.

Cited as: Encarta Concise English Dictionary (2001) or (Encarta Concise English Dictionary, 2001)

Quotations should be followed by a page number, for example: Encarta Concise English Dictionary (2001, p.22) or (Encarta Concise English Dictionary, 2001 p.22). See Section 2 above for more details.

Organisation/Society/Government Department

A publication where no individual/person is accredited as the author should be referenced using the name of the organisation/society or Government department. For example:

Royal College of Nursing (2023) Accountability and delegation: your pocket guide [online]
Available at: <https://www.rcn.org.uk/Professional-Development/Accountability-and-delegation>
[Accessed: 9th November 2023]

If the organisation/society/department is well known by an acronym or initials, the first time you cite them use the full name followed by its abbreviated name in brackets, for example:

...In its updated guidance on the topic the Royal College of Nursing (RCN) (2023) now recommends ...

If you need to refer to the organisation again, refer to it by its abbreviated name, RCN (2023) or (RCN, 2023). Use the full name of the organisation in your reference list.

Quotations should be followed by a page number, for example: Royal College of Nursing (RCN) (2012, p.4) or (Royal College of Nursing (RCN), 2023 p.4). See Section 2 above for more details.

Anonymity in the interests of Confidentiality

You may sometimes need to withhold names to preserve confidentiality - such as on school or hospital placements:

Hospital A (Name withheld, 2021) Title of the document

School A (Name withheld, 2014) Name of the Policy/website

Ofsted (year) Inspection under Section 9 of the Education (Schools) Act 1994: School A (Name Withheld)

Cited as: Hospital A (Name withheld, 2021)

School A (Name withheld, 2014)

Ofsted (year)

Same Author Different Years

List works by the same author published in different years in chronological order (earliest first) in your reference list.

Blume, J. (1979) It's not the end of the world. London: Heinemann.

Blume, J. (1989) Just as long as we're together. London: Chivers.

Blume, J. (1993) Here's to you, Rachel Robinson. London: Heinemann.

If you want to cite them together then it would be: Blume (1979; 1989; 1993) or (Blume, 1979; 1989; 1993)

Lareau, A. (2003) Unequal childhoods: class, race and family life. London: University of California Press.

Lareau, A. (2015) Cultural knowledge and social inequality. Behaviour Modification, v.39 (1), pp.1-27.

Cited at the same time as: Lareau (2003; 2015) or (Lareau, 2003; 2015)

Same Author Same Year

If you refer to more than one work by an author published in the same year, add a lower-case letter in alphabetical order to the references after the year to differentiate between them.

Capel, S. (2010a) Learning to teach in the secondary school: a companion to school experience. 4th ed. Abington: Routledge.

Capel, S. (2010b) Learning to teach physical education in the secondary school: a companion to school experience. 3rd ed. Abington: Routledge.

Cited as: Capel (2010a) or (Capel, 2010a) (Capel, 2010b) or (Capel, 2010b)

Cited at the same time: Capel (2010a; 2010b) or (Capel, 2010a; 2010b)

Quotes need a page number see Section 2 for more details. for example: Capel (2010a, p.25) or (Capel, 2010a p.25)

To cite more than one source by the same author at the same point in your text, put them in chronological order – earliest first.

Lareau, A. (2003) Unequal childhoods: class, race and family life. London: University of California Press.

Lareau, A. (2015) Cultural knowledge and social inequality. Behaviour Modification, v.39 (1), pp.1-27.

Cited as: Lareau (2003; 2015) or (Lareau, 2003; 2015)

Same Last Name and Year but Different Authors

If you are referring to items by different authors with the same last name published in the same year include their initial to distinguish between them, for example:

(M. Smith, 2009) and (V. Smith, 2009) (P. Burgess, 2020) and (L. Burgess, 2020)

Citing in the text:

P. Burgess (2020) argues

It was argued (P. Burgess, 2020)

Citing Multiple Sources/Authors

If you refer to more than one item at the same point in your text, list the items in order of publication date (earliest first), for example:

Several studies (Robinson, 1997; Jones, 2003; Patel, 2006)

References read about in other publications (Secondary sources/references)

You may want to cite a work which you have seen cited by another author. If you have not read the original work, this is called a secondary source/reference. The citation for this work should include both the author of the work you have read and the one you have not read. In your reference list provide full details of the item which you have read.

For example: You read a book by Jones and on p.24 Jones has cited Smith, 1993. In your reference list you put the details of the book you have read, in this case Jones. Your reference would be:

Jones, R. (2003) Social change and educational reform. London: Routledge.

In your text you need to include both Jones and Smith:

Cited as: Smith (1993 cited in Jones, 2003 p.24) or (Smith, 1993 cited in Jones, 2003 p.24)

Your reader knows that they need to go to p.24 of Jones' book and they will see what you read about Smith.

You read a journal article by Tembrioti and Trangaridou published in 2013 and on p.5 they cite Leijen, Lam, Wildschut and Simons, 2009. Your reference would be:

Tembrioti, L. and Trangaridou, N. (2013) Reflective practice in dance: a review of the literature. Research in Dance Education [online], v.15 (1), pp.4-22.

Cited as: Leijen, Lam, Wildschut and Simons (2009 cited in Tembrioti and Trangaridou, 2013, p.5) or (Leijen, Lam, Wildschut and Simons, 2009 cited in Tembrioti and Trangaridou, 2013, p.5)

Henry, C.J., Kaur, B. and Quek, R.Y.C. (2020) Chrononutrition in the management of diabetes. Nutrition and Diabetes [First Published online 19th February 2020], v.10 (6). DOI: 10.1038/s41387-020-0109-6
[Accessed: 4th March 2023]

Cited as: Kalsbeek, la Fleur and Fliers (2014 cited in Henry, Kaur and Quek, 2020, p.2) or (Kalsbeek, la Fleur and Fliers, 2014 cited in Henry, Kaur and Quek, 2020 p.2)

You should always display the secondary citation as it appears in the document you are reading. For example: there are 4 authors cited in the document – normally we would use et al, but you need to keep it exactly as it is written. So, you would cite it as:

Radford, Bosanquet, Webster and Blatchford (2015 cited in Bowles, Radford and Bakopoulou, 2018, p.42) or (Radford, Bosanquet, Webster and Blatchford, 2015 cited in Bowles, Radford and Bakopoulou, 2018, p.42)

Section Four: Compiling a Reference List

A reference list normally consists of full details of all the items you have referred to/cited in your text. It is one list, A-Z by author's last name regardless of whether they are references for books, journal articles or other items. See below for a short example of a reference list.

Reference List

Cited as: (Author, year, p.??)

The citation would go under the image in brackets as well as in your paragraphs if you are talking about it.

Images from Microsoft Office: PowerPoint stock images

Microsoft Office PowerPoint has “stock images” which have little information. Use the launch date as the year. If you click on the Alt Text icon, a description will appear in a side panel – use this as the title.

Microsoft Office 365 (2011) White Flowers blossoming on a green background (PowerPoint Stock Image) [online Image]

Available at: <https://www.office.com/>

[Accessed: 28th October 2022]

Cited as: (Microsoft Office 365, 2011)

Alternatively, you may want to use a number system (Image 1) (Image 2) etc. This can be useful if you are using multiple images in a poster or PowerPoint presentation, as it looks cleaner, if you cannot locate all the details for an image.

Image 1:

Microsoft Office 365 (2011) White Flowers blossoming on a green background (PowerPoint Stock Image) [online Image]

[Accessed: 28th October 2022]

Cited as: (Image 1)

The citation goes under the image in brackets, as well as in your paragraphs if you write about it. In the reference list the full reference would be under I for Image (see example reference lists).

Images online

For images found on the internet the required elements for a reference are:

Author or owner of website (Year image created) Title of work [online image]

If there is no date use (n.d.) which is short for no date

Images – online no author accredited

Images online – no title

If you cannot find details such as author, date, or title, try to find the filename of the image, for example: right click and look at the properties of the file. If none of the above can be found begin the reference with the subject and title of the work. Put square brackets around the title to indicate it is not the “official title.”

Industry/Trade Magazines or Publications Articles

Some trade or industry produced magazines do not have authors attributed to articles/news/pieces. ### Reports – referencing an article from an edited report

If you had a report with article or sections written by different authors and you want to reference an individual article:

Author of article (year) Title of the article. In: Editor (ed.) Title of the report [online], pp-pp.
Available at:
[Accessed: date]

Secondary Sources/References

You may want to refer to a work you found quoted by another author. Always be sure to add a note including a page number to the reference in your assignment, so that it is clear that you have not consulted the original source.

Provide a reference to the item you have read in your reference list. The reader can then use that information and the page number noted in your assignment to trace full details of the item. For example:

You have read a book by Jaworski, Wood and Dawson, published in 1999 and they have cited a book on page 101 written by Schifter in 1991. The book you have read, is the item in your reference list.

Jaworski, B., Wood, T.L. and Dawson, S. (1999) Mathematics teacher education critical international perspectives. London: RoutledgeFalmer.

Your citation would be for Schifter but also where you read about it:

Schifter (1991 cited in Jaworski, Wood and Dawson, 1999 p.101) argued...

It was argued (Schifter, 1991 cited in Jaworski, Wood and Dawson, 1999 p.101)...

You have read a journal article by Nair, Patil and Mertova published in 2009 and on page 133 the authors cite a paper written by Vohra and Kasuba published in 2004. The article you have read, is the item in your reference list:

Nair, C.S., Patil, A. and Mertova, P. (2009) Re-engineering graduate skills - a case study. European Journal of Engineering Education [online], 34 (2), pp.131-139.

Available at: <https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/03043790902829281>

[Accessed: 3rd August 2023]

Your citation would be for Vohra and Kasuba but also where you read about it:

Vohra and Kasuba (2004 cited in Nair, Patil and Mertova, 2009 p.133) established....

It was agreed (Vohra and Kasuba, 2004 cited in Nair, Patil and Mertova, 2009 p.133) that...

Secondary References to abstracts

You may occasionally want to refer in your assignment to an item you uncovered during a literature search but have not read in full. Include the abstract number in the reference to indicate that you are working from the abstract not the full document.
